Exhibiting in the Digital Space

Karla Krey in conversation with New Scenario

We expect to see art in museums or project spaces. However, there are numerous participatory, interventionist, digital, sculptural, borderline legal artistic approaches transcending the exhibition space.

The artists Paul Barsch and Tilman Hornig work together as "New Scenario" showing artistic works in digital space not only since the corona pandemic. Together with the artist Karla Krey, they take a look at digital exhibition practice and discuss the possibilities that arise in such a practice in the first place.

about: Paul Barsch and Tilman Hornig, alumni of the HfBK Dresden, develop virtual (group) exhibitions under the name New Scenario. In her work Karla Krey explores visual narration in a social context.

She is a member of the artists group fe*male intervention.
